Inter-Departmental Memorandum

Date: March 19, 2009
To: Design Teams
From: John Reese jr
Assistant Roadway Design Division Engineer
Subject: Right of Way Markers at No-Access Returns

On all future projects, a right-of-way marker should be placed at all no-access limit returns. Exceptions to this are at the 50 ft. openings on projects with Type 2 access, and on no-access limits that do not follow a right-of-way line.

On active right-of-way projects, the markers should be added if the revision will not delay the right-of-way acquisition. Check with the Design Section Engineer to determine if the markers should be added.
